

COMMITTED TO ACCESSIBLE CIVIL JUSTICE

Supervising Family Law Attorney

At DC Affordable Law Firm (DCALF), we believe everyone deserves access to justice and that income should not be a barrier to a family's receipt of high-quality legal representation. DCALF was founded in 2015 to provide high quality, affordable and accessible legal services to DC residents who earn too much to qualify for traditional sources of free legal services in the District but cannot afford representation by private attorneys. DCALF fills a sizeable void in the District's civil legal services landscape as the only nonprofit legal service provider centered on the family law, probate, estate and end-of-life planning, and immigration needs of the more than 125,000 hardworking DC residents living two-to-four times above the Federal Poverty Level. Additionally, DCALF is a partner in the Family Law Assistance Network ("FLAN"), an initiative providing limited-scope family law representation and legal assistance to self-represented litigants from lower-income households. DCALF is part of an innovative access to justice movement seeking to close the civil justice gap and enhance equitable access to counsel. We are fiercely dedicated to leveling the playing field and ensuring historically underserved clients are able to tackle some of life's most daunting legal issues with a lawyer by their side.

DCALF was created through a joint venture between Georgetown University Law Center, DLA Piper, and Arent Fox, and is largely staffed by recent law graduates completing a 15-month LL.M. fellowship program. In 2021, DCALF's legal team grew by 44% thanks to a new partnership with the University of the District of Columbia David A. Clarke School of Law.
